

ACROPOLIS MUSEUM

A new Museum has been constructed to exhibit the unique finds and architectural sculptures of the Acropolis of Athens. In the coming months the masterpieces from the Acropolis will find their place in the New Acropolis Museum, in anticipation of the Museum's complete operation in early 2009.

The website www.newacropolismuseum.gr/eng/ has been prepared to provide all the necessary information about this important project.

The new Acropolis Museum takes place in the historical place of "Makrygianni", southeastern of the Acropolis ancient Rock. It's distance is 300m. to the Akropolis and about 2km to Syntagma (Constitution) Sq., while it has nearby "Akropolis" metro station.
